

U. S. FORCES TAKE MAKNASSY

MINE NEGOTIATION MAY BE EXTENDED

UMW, Northern Operators Offer Counter-Proposals on Contract

NEW YORK, March 23 (AP)—In the wake of President Roosevelt's request that negotiations for a new contract be continued after April 1, the United Mine Workers Union and Northern soft coal operators of the Appalachian area offered counter-proposals today under which mines would be kept open and negotiations continued after the expiration of the present contract March 31.

The Northern operators agreed to the miners' proposal that any wage increases or hour improvements agreed upon after April 1 be retroactive to that date, but bucked the UMW proposal that a time limit of 30 days after April 1 be set for negotiations.

Citing the President's telegram to union and operators' negotiators Monday, in which he asked for uninterrupted production after the contract expiration date, the operators presented a resolution stating that "pending continued negotiations, the terms and conditions of existing contracts shall remain in force and effect" until their differences are settled.

The Northern operators' counter-proposal amounted to acceptance of the President's suggestion as he set no time limit on the negotiations.

Earlier today, the UMW had offered the operators an agreement stating specifically that "pending continued negotiations all mines remain in operation for a period of 30 days from April 1 under existing basic district and supplemental agreements."

A union representative, who declined to be quoted by name, said later that renewal of the proposal was a result of President Roosevelt's telegram Monday to the miners and soft coal operators calling for uninterrupted work when the present contract expires March 31.

The President did not set a time limit on the negotiations, and said that any wage adjustments must be in accordance with the wage stabilization act.

"The President has called for negotiations to continue without a time limitation," the union representative said. "We do not want this thing to go on indefinitely."

GASOLINE AGAIN COMING INTO CITY

Most Dealers Get Some Shipments; Commercial Orders Being Filled

Gasoline started to flow into Newport again Monday night. Mr. Torborg, field representative of the PAW in Boston, said the picture here would become brighter from now on.

While most of the gasoline dealers said they had received some gasoline either Monday night or this morning, they emphasized they were taking care of the commercial orders only, principally trucks. The situation has not changed enough yet to warrant any general sale of gasoline, they said.

The Pacific Oil Company had gasoline on hand at its Newport and Middletown stations. Petroleum Supply said it was taking care of the city equipment, including fire engines, and had only enough for that purpose to last until Wednesday noon. Johnson Brothers said they had the promise of 3,500 gallons from Providence today or Wednesday.

All sellers of petroleum products are invited to meet at Ration Board headquarters Wednesday night at 7 o'clock. A representative of the state OPA will speak.

BANK TURNS DOWN CITY ADDED LOAN

Council Head Directs Treasurer to Hold Funds

Moves to Assure Payment of Salaries of Employees; Budget Body to Meet

The First National Bank of Boston cannot make a further loan of $25,000 to the city in anticipation of taxes as authorized under a Representative Council resolution and direction by the Board of Aldermen, according to a statement made today by Mayor Herbert E. Macauley, following a meeting of the Budget Commission at the city hall Monday night.

According to the mayor's statement, Cornelius C. Moore, commission chairman, reported that George Bisson, city treasurer, had received word from the bank that on advice of its counsel, Storey, Thorndike, Palmer and Dodge, it could not make the further loan.

Council's opinion, the statement said, was that as there was now due only $178,000 in taxes receivable for the municipal fiscal year, 1942-43, and as there are now outstanding loans of $175,000 one for $100,000 negotiated in October 1942, and the other, for $75,000 authorized by the present administration, a further loan on tax anticipation would be illegal and therefore was disapproved.

"The result of this opinion," the mayor said, "means that the city cannot negotiate a loan in excess of the amount of taxes receivable due for the year in which the loan is negotiated. Also, that tax anticipation notes must be paid for from the taxes assessed and due for the year in which the loan is negotiated. This ruling supports in full the contention and opinion that the chairman of the

QUAHOG MEASURE PASSES HOUSE

Senate Votes Bill Ending Class 1 and 2 Milk Differential

[Special to the News]

PROVIDENCE, March 23—Governor J. Howard McGrath would be authorized to extend the open season and to define the boundaries of open areas for taking of quahogs by dredging, or otherwise, in Rhode Island waters under an act passed by the house this afternoon.

It was introduced by Representative Erich A. O'D. Taylor, Newport Democrat, with unanimous consent and passed without opposition. The authority granted to the governor would be in effect only for the period that the General Assembly is in session this year. The legislature will adjourn about April 10.

The senate passed a bill that eliminated the differential between Class 1 and Class 2 milk and makes this elimination effective until the legislature itself decides otherwise. In effect, this takes the power away from the state board of milk control.

The house passed a resolution directing the public utilities administrator to investigate certain practices of the New Haven Railroad relative to rates charged service men while traveling on furlough. The resolution, introduced by Representative Joseph Mill, Republican of Warwick, charges that a non-commissioned officer in active service was compelled to pay $23.81 more for his ticket back to California from Providence than the charges from California east to Providence.

HEMPSTEAD HAS AIR FIRE

HEMPSTEAD, N. Y., March 23 (AP)—A low-flying army plane crashed into the side of a classroom building of Hofstra College, near Mitchell Field, early today, setting the building afire, police said.

The Eastern Defense Command in New York city announced that the pilot was killed. He had taken off from Mitchell Field on a training mission shortly before the crash.

No students were reported in the vicinity at the time.

STOCK MARKET GETS ANOTHER LIFT

Upward Trend Aided By Buying Steels, Rubbers; Favorites Reach High

[By Victor Eubank]

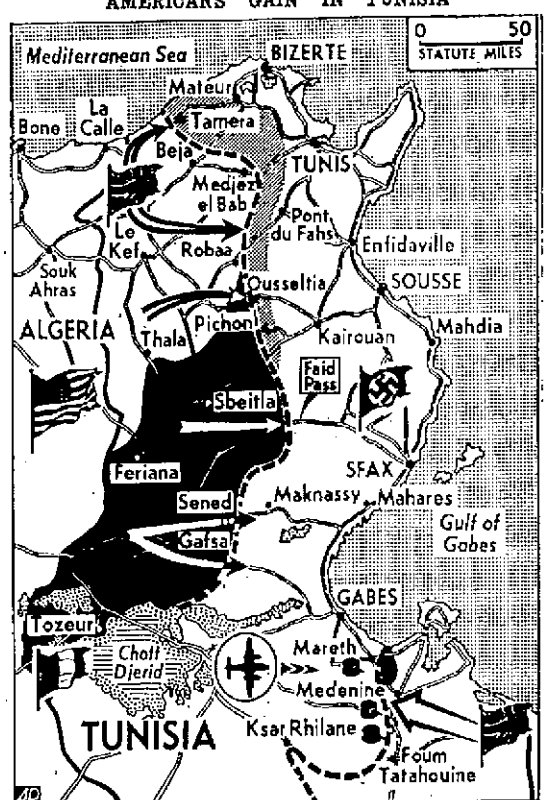

NEW YORK, March 23 (AP)—Buying in steels, rubbers, rails and specialties gave today's stock market another fair-sized lift.

The direction was moderately upward from the opening and, near the fourth hour, gains of fractions to a point or so predominated, with a number of favorites at new tops for the year or longer. Dealings, active for a while, slowed later.

Stocks touching 1943 peaks included United States Rubber, Good-year, Lee Tire, Deere, Willys-Overland, Virginia-Carolina Chemical and Dome Mines. In front were United States Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Allied Chemical, du Pont, Packard, Graham-Paige, Western Union and Standard Oil (N. J.).

RATIONING SEEN AS BLACK MARKET CURB

Del Sesto Answers Report of Senate Committee

State OPA Head Cites Plan to License Slaughterers of Meat Animals

Answering a select-state senate committee that unanimously blamed black market conditions on the OPA and law enforcement of state laws, Christopher Del Sesto, state OPA director, said today that effective elimination of black markets should be achieved by rationing starting March 29. Strict federal control over slaughtering starting April 1 will help, he added.

Del Sesto, in a letter to Senator William B. Sweeney, Warwick Republican, chairman of the senate committee, cited lend lease needs, and said it was inevitable shortages should occur. He insisted no governmental agency was at fault, and added that, under such conditions, it was inevitable that "marginal operators of meat, who depend on surpluses to stay in business, should become business casualties."

He admitted some of the packers are not cooperating with the government in that "while they are living within the letter of the regulations they are not living within their spirit." He charged them with switching their methods of shipment to take advantage of the regulations which permit higher price ceilings. He also said the packers are catering to hotels and restaurants while denying meat to jobbers whom they would have to give a price differential.

In his letter, Del Sesto said he was assigning an OPA official to today's public hearing, the first open meeting held by the

Fliers Raid Brittany Railways; Americans Blast Wilhelmshaven; Reds Push Back Nazi Thrusts At Donets

GERMANS RUSH UP MORE TROOPS

Soviet Forces Continue Drive on Smolensk, Hold Near Bryansk

MOSCOW, March 23 (AP)—Battling numerically superior forces of Germans who continue to pour up to the front in long columns, the Red army of the northern Donets pushed back every German effort to cross the waterway in force, while on the central front Russians continued to drive toward Smolensk, it was announced today.

The Red army also held its lines in the face of another tremendous German push north of Zhidra, 40 miles north of Bryansk on the central front where the Nazis had numerous big tanks and dive-bombers in operation over a sandy terrain similar to that around Pinehurst, N. C.

Red Star said heavy German attacks in this area opened up early on March 19 with mass artillery fire and were supported by big tanks and motorized infantry that swarmed through the pine forests and across the sandy soil as readily as across the deserts of Africa. Forty-eight tanks rushed from one forest, the dispatch said, but at last accounts the Germans had not been able to overwhelm the defenders.

In another long-quiet sector, the Kuban area of the Caucasus, the Red army again was driving ahead, breaking down frequent counterattacks after one of the worst stretches of weather this spring. Red Star said the Russians had forced one unnamed river emptying into the Kuban.

The Chuguev and Belogor sectors still were the centers of the most violent fighting in the Donets area, the Germans employing increasing numbers of infantry behind their mass tank and plane attacks, but there was no serious denting of the Soviet line. Along the long river front the Soviets continued to hold several positions on the western bank.

The noon communiqué said that Soviet artillery fire dispersed one enemy concentration in the area of Chuguev, which is 22 miles southeast of Kharkov, and that the Germans were hurled back, "with heavy losses," when they attacked one sector of that battle.

Six tanks and 25 troop trucks were wiped out in one sector of the Belogor district fighting, and 16 supply trucks and two German batteries were destroyed in another.

The Germans have been depending largely on trucks for communications between Kharkov and Chuguev and the Russian heavy artillery, that commands several roads leading to the front, has

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, March 23 (AP)—American armored forces have captured Maknassy in a slash toward the sea to cut Axis communications, an Allied headquarters communiqué announced today, and field reports said parts of the British 8th Army had swept in a wide arc around the Mareth Line and were now many miles inside it.

While the Americans, under Lieutenant General George S. Patton, Jr., stabbed to within less than 34 miles of the Gulf of Gabes, continuing east past Maknassy, other forces of General Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's 8th Army swung a mighty frontal blow at Marshal Erwin Rommel's Mareth Line.

The German radio in a broadcast recorded by the Associated Press in London acknowledged that United States forces had pushed east of Maknassy but claimed that they had been halted in the mountains at an undisclosed point.

The Allied communiqué said the 8th Army operations there were going ahead on schedule in spite of a bitter contest being put up by Axis forces that Monday attempted a powerful counter-attack. This was repulsed. The announcement said 1,700 Axis prisoners were captured in this operation by mid-day yesterday.

The force that swung in a sweeping movement around the southwestern flank of the Mareth Line now faced a strong German concentration of tanks and artillery at El Hamma, 20 miles directly west of Gabes.

Allied air forces yesterday smashed fiercely at this concentration, the communiqué announcing that at least 32 enemy tanks were hit and at least nine of them destroyed.

All indications were that the Germans would make a desperate effort to prevent General Patton's armored column from reaching the coast and this morning there were all the signs of a big counter-attack impeding in this sector.

Patton's column, which had branched off from Gafsa to El Guetar, was now moving along on the southern road into Maknassy and toward Mezouna.

Reports from the American front this morning said the Germans had rushed up armored forces in a desperate effort to keep open the narrowing coastal shelf.

Most of the prisoners captured by Montgomery were Germans. The 8th Army units that launched the coastal attack along a six-mile front had now fought their way across the Wadi Zizgrou, northeast of Mareth, and through a complicated trench system supported by cross-fire from machine-gun posts that had been prepared to re-inforce the Mareth Line.

(Allied strategy appeared directed at breaking Axis forces into two or three pockets, Montgomery, pursuing the methods he used at El Alamein, in Egypt, was attempting to smash through near the coast that would nip off the inland end of the Mareth Line. His flanking arm was attempting to get behind the whole line, while

AIRMEN ATTACK U-BOAT NESTS

Assault By U. S. Planes Called One of Heaviest, Most Accurate

LONDON, March 23 (AP)—Squadrons of the RAF's big bombers smashed at the German submarine base at St. Nazaire Monday night in the wake of a heavy assault on Wilhelmshaven by American Flying Fortresses and Liberators yesterday afternoon.

British whirlwind fighter-bombers also blasted railway targets in Brittany during the night's operations, which cost the loss of one plane, an Air Ministry communiqué said.

"The assaults on St. Nazaire and Wilhelmshaven represented a resumption of the Allied air offensive against the nests from which Nazi under-water raiders have been striking at vital United Nations supply lines."

St. Nazaire has been a repeated target of attacks not only by the RAF but by the United States air forces. The last big raid on the base was carried out by the RAF on the night of February 28, when more than 1,000 tons of bombs were unloaded on the U-boat pens.

The assault on Wilhelmshaven was described as one of the heaviest and most accurate yet delivered by the American fliers, who had attacked the big German naval base twice before. It was directed at shipping installations in a target area only a few hundred feet in diameter. Three bombers failed to return.

(A German radio broadcast, heard by The Associated Press, claimed that seven bombers were shot down in the raid on Wilhelmshaven. It said that "in particular the population suffered losses and damage was caused to buildings."

(The German high command communiqué, broadcast later from Berlin and recorded by The Associated Press, claimed, however, that five bombers were shot down during the Wilhelmshaven raid.

(The communiqué also reported a German heavy bomber raid on a shipbuilding facilities and the supply harbor of Hartlepool, on the British east coast.)

"The results were good," a communiqué stated.

"The target was packed with hits and they were concentrated, with none short or long of the target," said Lieutenant Roger Calkin of Los Angeles. He was bombardier of the "Chuck Wagon," a fortress piloted by Lieutenant Charles Cramer of Akron, Ohio.

Wilhelmshaven has strengthened its anti-aircraft defenses and it

MAN SENTENCED

FOR THEFT OF FOOD

W. F. Clark Arrested With Supply of Goods from Restaurant

Willard Francis Clark, 29, of Broadway, is in Newport County jail for 15 days, with plenty of time to meditate on the lack of success that attended his apparent attempt to beat the OPA rationing regulations by removing a list of scarce supplies from the Capital Restaurant, where he was employed.

Newport police charged that Clark when arrested had in his possession roasts of beef and lamb, three chickens, six pounds of bacon, six pounds of butter, one pound of tea, four pounds of sugar and three quarts of whiskey.

Arraigned before Theodore T. Mahoney, clerk of the district court, at a special session Monday afternoon on a charge of larceny, Clark pleaded guilty and was sentenced. Patrolman William Morse arrested him early Monday morning. The officer became suspicious when he saw the man going along Broadway with his arms full of bundles. Examination of the bundles revealed the supply of food stuffs. Police said Clark used his own key to go back into the restaurant after it was closed.

This morning on the civil docket in Fred Van Doorn against Charles M. Young, decision was for plaintiff for $35.89 and costs.

Urges Support of Fathers of Atlantic Charter

CHICAGO, March 23 (AP)—Madame Chiang Kai-shek after reading Prime Minister Churchill's radio address from London Sunday, declared Monday that "we should all support the men who fathered the Atlantic Charter."

"One must think not only in terms of the good of one's own country, but in terms of the good of other people's," the first lady of China said in an address prepared for delivery to a mass meeting in Chicago Stadium.

Churchill had declared that "some time next year—but it may well be the year after—we might beat Hitler." Then she said immediately proceeds to transport all the necessary additional forces and apparatus to the other side of the world to punish the greedy, cruel empire of Japan, to rescue China from her long torment.

MEAT SITUATION HERE

SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

Some Shipments Arrive By Railroad

Public Eating Places to Have Allowances Cut to Same Level as Householders

The local meat situation showed improvement today, as a result of the arrival of supplies into the city. There is not enough to meet all demands, it was explained, but there is a "hot more meat" in hand. It arrived by railroad. This is in marked contrast to last week, reported as being the worst since rationing started.

In the past, some local markets have obtained their meat supplies in other cities, but no meat can be had at the present time, it was explained. This leaves the problem up to the local distributors, who are being asked to take care of their own customers and those who have been buying out of town, it was added.

Hotels, restaurants and other public eating places, where customers yield no point stamps, will get their meats and fats on a reduced basis, cut to the same level as householders, it was announced in the latest OPA ration order.

The meat and point values will be made public Wednesday afternoon. Retail markets selling meat, butter, cheese and other rationed products will have two weeks at the start of rationing next Monday to build up a case for themselves; they may buy freely meats and fats and sell them, and when they register during the period from May 3 to May 14, they will be allowed to carry a meat-fats inventory equal to three times the point sales they made in the week from April 25 to May 1.

Industrial users of meats and fats, such as bakeries, will receive quotas of meats and fats from their ration boards, and will register in considerable detail during the period from March 29 to April 10, showing inventory of foods at close of business on March 28, and past operations over quarterly periods.

Institutional users, such as hotels and restaurants, will register during the same March 29 to April 10 period. Full details will be announced by the state OPA office at a later date. Their rations will be determined by points allotted on the basis of past consumption records.

Sale of canned baby foods is limited to children four years old and younger, the state OPA has ruled. The points for these must be obtained from the No. 2 War Ration Book issued to the children in that age bracket. It was reported that prunes were being bought for consumption by older persons.

The OPA has ruled druggists selling baby foods in cans and jars are food retailers, and must register from April 1 to 10 with local ration boards the same as grocers.

This will be the first time, the despatch said, in which masses will be celebrated in the afternoon.

Lieutenant Wadleigh, who was graduated from St. George's School here, and from the Naval Academy in 1937, is the son of Mrs. John Winthrop Wadleigh and the late Lieutenant Colonel Wadleigh of the Marine Corps, who died at sea in 1923 while serving as fleet marine officer. AUTO REGISTRATION

FIGURES SHOW DROP

Rhode Island Reports 42,986 Below Total For Same Date Last Year

Automobile registrations in Rhode Island as of last Saturday are 42,986 below the same date a year ago with registration fees revenues down $712,875, Wilfred J. Paquin, state registrar of motor vehicles, announced.

Paquin blamed rumors that the federal auto use stamp tax would be raised from $5 to $25 and also the recent OPA extension of the period for using a gasoline ration coupon No. 5 from one to two months. He said his office has been unable to confirm the rumors of the pending boost in the stamp tax.

Commenting on the situation, Governor J. Howard McGrath expressed the opinion that many cars, ordinarily registered at this time, have been put up for the duration by men who have gone into the armed forces.

Total registration as of Saturday was 42,915 as against 88,501 the same date last year. Registration fees thus far are $702,405 as compared with $1,415,080 last year at this time.

LITTLE STEEL WAGE FORMULA RETAINED

President Backs Board's Notice It Will Not Yield on Wage Stabilization

[By Joseph A. Loftus]

WASHINGTON, March 23 (AP)—John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, had dual notice from the government today that it contemplates no retreat on the wage stabilization front.

While the War Labor Board was announcing its rejection of a labor petition to lift the 15 per cent cost-of-living allowance, President Roosevelt backed up the board with messages to Lewis and the coal operators that their dispute "must be settled like any other dispute."

The President's statement put a damper on speculation that the government might yield to Lewis at least to the extent of appointing a special agency to hear his case. Lewis has been lambasting William H. Davis, WLB chairman, and has implied he would not submit the miners' demands to that agency on the ground Davis prejudged the case.

At a press conference following the WLB's vote to retain the "Little Steel" wage formula, Chairman William H. Davis told reporters that enactment of farm legislation providing any "radical change in the price of food" might require an upward adjustment of wages.

The WLB's 8 to 4 rejection of a motion to boost the 15 per cent ceiling of the "Little Steel" formula set the stage for a showdown on the demand of the miners for $2-a-day increase.

The formula permits an increase to groups of workers of 15 per cent over their straight time hourly earnings January 1, 1943. The miners concede they have had 16 per cent or more since that date. But the board's refusal to alter the formula's ceiling does not necessarily mean a rejection of the miners' demands.

The board draws its authority from language that permits great flexibility. It may approve increases "to correct maladjustments, to eliminate inequalities and gross inequities, to eliminate substantial, and to aid in the effective prosecution of the war."

"Maladjustments" refers only to the cost of living and is the phrase used by the board in applying the "Little Steel" formula.

Mr. Roosevelt requested continued production of coal after March 31, when the present contract expires, with the understanding that

If the new agreement includes any wage adjustments they would be applied retroactively from April 1. He added significantly: "If any wage adjustments are made they must, of course, be made in accordance with the act of October 2, 1942, and executive order No. 8250."

The act of October 2 directed the President to issue an executive order to stabilize wages and living costs as of September 15 "so far as practicable." This policy was set forth in executive order No. 9017 (setting up the WLB) of January 10, 1942; that is, by collective bargaining, conciliation and final determination, if necessary, by the National War Labor Board.

Chairman Davis said Monday the board's split vote on the 15 per cent issue, followed by a unanimous vote on another point, should make it clear "that the cost of living allowance is one thing, and inequities, substandard wages, and so forth, are something else."

Employer members of the board issued a statement pointing out that the 15 per cent cost-of-living adjustment is calculated on a basis of straight time hourly earnings. "We suggest," they said, "that the actual earnings and purchasing power of a worker must be taken into consideration in determining whether a gross inequity exists. It is not the average hourly rate, but the amount of his pay check that determines the ability of a worker to maintain or increase his standards of living."

"By and large, the average earnings of the workers of this country have increased at a rate far in excess of the increase in cost of living." Pointing out that the average week in manufacturing had risen from 39 hours last July to 44.4 in December, they said manpower requirements "will necessitate still further increases in weekly hours, and compensation for these additional hours will be at time and one-half rates."

At a press conference following the WLB's vote to retain the "Little Steel" wage formula, Chairman William H. Davis told reporters that enactment of farm legislation providing any "radical change in the price of food" might require an upward adjustment of wages.

ALLIES ADVANCE IN NEW GUINEA

Control Entire Mambare Area; Kill 700 Japs; Planes Pound Tokio Sites

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, March 23 (AP)—The entire Mambare River valley area on the northeast coast of New Guinea, 40 miles north of Buna and within 100 miles of the important Japanese base at Salamaua, is in the control of Allied ground troops after a steady infiltration that has cost the enemy at least 700 dead and over 100 prisoners, Allied headquarters announced today.

Many other Japanese are believed to have lost their lives of starvation and disease, the communiqué said, in the American push through the swampy river valleys of the Ambasi, Kunusi and Opi, which were cleared of enemy troops during the current advance.

Allied bombers and fighters continued, meanwhile, to pound at Japanese positions in New Guinea and New Britain, giving particular attention to Gasmala, on the south coast of the latter island.

The Gasmala base was hit with 2,000-pound bombs dropped on the runway of the airfield which started large fires, and then was heavily gunned by long fighters, with heavy damage to buildings and installations, the bulletin said. Though Salamaua itself escaped the town of Lao, another bombed the runway of the airfield at Finschhafen, 65 miles to the northwest, while still another group shot up the town of Madang, 160 miles north of Salamaua.

Three Japanese bombers struck back with a raid on the Allied base at Milne bay, on the southern

This picture of a United States gun crew was made in the Allied drive on Gafsa March 17-18 and is the first transmitted for use by newspapers on a newly-opened United States Army signal corps radio-photo circuit that links Algiers and the War Department at Washington. Transmission time from Algiers to Washington was seven minutes.

Allied air attention Monday, several other Japanese bases along the New Guinea northeast coast were hit.

An Allied heavy unit machine-gunned the town of Lao, another bombed the runway of the airfield at Finschhafen, 65 miles to the northwest, while still another group shot up the town of Madang, 160 miles north of Salamaua.

Three Japanese bombers struck back with a raid on the Allied base at Milne bay, on the southern tip of New Guinea, causing two casualties but no other damage, the communiqué said. One of the raiders was hit and damaged by a burst from an intercepting American fighter.

The communiqué said close reconnaissance of the sea lane off the south coast of New Britain failed to disclose any trace of a Japanese destroyer that was heavily damaged by bombs Monday, but no claim was made that the ship had been sunk.

PRESCOTT'S COUNSEL FILES FOR NEW TRIAL

Defense Contends Murder Verdict Was Against Law

One Uncontested Divorce Granted

At Brief Morning Session In Superior Court

Counsel for Private First Class Howard Norman Prescott, of Camp Edwards, Mass., convicted by a jury of seven women and five men last Friday afternoon of second degree murder, today filed with John H. Greene, Jr., clerk of the Superior court, a motion for a new trial.

Benjamin Cianciarulo, public defender, who with Aram A. Azadian, defended Prescott, filed the motion, which contended that the verdict was against the law and the evidence presented in the four-day trial of the Dexter Mc. Soldier for killing Mrs. Avis Macomber, 19, a housemaid, in her apartment at Park-Helm.

Judge Walter Curry, who sat on the murder trial, will probably set a date for a hearing on the motion some time next week, it is believed.

Judge Curry held a brief session of the superior court today, as the case set for trial was settled after the jury had been empaneled. One uncontested divorce petition was heard on depositions and granted.

A jury was empaneled to try the civil case of Home Owners Loan Corporation vs. Harry Barnash, trespass and ejectment suit for non-payment by defendant of allotments due plaintiff. George Friedman of Providence was plaintiff's counsel, and Maurice Danna represented defendant. The jury was sworn and the court took a recess. Then the case was settled and the jury was excused until 11 o'clock Wednesday.

Harry Fliegelman presented, on depositions, the uncontested divorce case of Loretta J. Watson vs. Alvin D. Watson, which was granted on the ground of neglect to provide. The marriage was January 24, 1935.

BRITISH INSIDE MARETH LINES

The Americans threatened to wedge in the coast farther north. (A British radio correspondent's broadcast said the British flanking movement had been expected by Rommel and had been met 10 miles south of El Hamma by strongly prepared positions defended by minefields, anti-tank ditches and concentrations of troops and machines.

(Montgomery's coastal drive, the correspondent added, met with a deep and difficult wall, defended by a complicated trench system and machinegun posts, which had to be mopped up. However, this obstacle was reported crossed, and the British were said now to be attacking a strongly held ridge.

(The German communiques claimed that the Allies were repulsed "at several points" in a violent defensive battle in south and central Tunisia.

(A broadcast from Morocco, recorded by Reuters in London, said Hitler had ordered his forces in Tunisia to resist to the last man.

(Morocco radio broadcasts recorded in London at mid-day said Montgomery had driven a wedge into the "best defended part" of the Mareth Line, and described the assault on the line as "the most concentrated ever witnessed" with "Allied air forces, tanks and self-propelled guns pounding the German positions without respite."

(Another broadcast from Algiers by CBS, recorded in London, said a wide, outflanking march of 100 miles around Rommel's flank by British units resulted in an advance to 10 miles south of his airfields, El Hamma, to his rear and less than 20 miles from Gabes.)

Henry and Helen O. Walker was continued until Wednesday for assignment.

Mary C. Ambrogio vs. Antonio J. Serpa, as Administrator of the estate of Gabriel J. Serpa, went over to the first jury trials day of the June session, Edward J. Corcoran, counsel for plaintiff, saying that George A. Saxon, representing defendant, has been sick for a week.

ROTARY CLUB HEARS OF "VALUE OF HUMOR"

The Rev. Kenneth W. Cary Speaks at Luncheon; Royal Navy Man to Speak

"The Value of Humor" was the topic of the Rev. Kenneth W. Cary, assistant at Trinity Church, before the Rotary Club at its weekly meeting today at Hotel Viking. Introduced by Henry G. Wilkinson, Mr. Cary said that humor is best known when based on truth. He told various stories to emphasize his point.

Even dictators cannot suppress humor and cannot stand ridicule, Mr. Cary said, adding no man could be a demagogue if he had a sense of humor. Stories attributed to German and Italian origin were told to illustrate. Humor contributes to a sense of balance and is invaluable to morale, Mr. Cary said.

Humor is an antidote for loneliness, as the government recognizes by sending entertainers to the various camps and stations, it was declared. Stories of funny happenings of men in military service, and of battle, and the home front were told. Stories by Abraham Lincoln were told in conclusion.

Clifford Menz, guest of Charles E. Crocker, spoke on the current Civic Music campaign.

Lieutenant Commander Clifton L. Tallman, club president, appeared in his new Coast Guard uniform for the first time. He said the club was sixth among other district clubs in attendance. Ralph Tully was named chairman of the War Bond committee.

J. Raymond Parker, new music chairman, conducted the singing.

Chief Petty Officer William Mockridge, Royal Navy, will address the club next Tuesday, it was announced. Guests included John B. Gordon of New Bedford Rotary, Edwin Frankland of Wakefield, Lieutenant Commander George N. Edson and Sidney Derow of the Naval Hospital, and Harrison L. Euler of the Army and Navy Y. M. C. A.

BANK TURNS DOWN

CITY ADDED LOAN

Budget Commission had advanced after his study of the situation. "Under the circumstances," Mayor Macauley said, "it is apparent that the city will not have sufficient funds with which to pay all of its obligations. Mr. Moore has directed the city treasurer to withhold a sufficient sum from funds on hand to insure the payment of the salaries of city officials, teachers, policemen, firemen and other employees of the city. It is impossible to determine at this time the extent of the obligations that the city will be obliged to carry over to next year."

The commission had another meeting that lasted well after midnight Tuesday. There will be another meeting Wednesday night.

sent up a dense smoke barrage, returning fliers reported. The docks lay under heavy camouflage but Chaukin declared: "I don't see how we could have done anything but destroy all that was under that large mass of camouflage."

The German flight interception was cautious, mindful of the punishment meted out by the uncorrected bomber fleet that bombed Vegesack last Thursday. A number of the enemy aircraft were destroyed by yesterday's bomber crews, the communique announced.

PLANNING BOARD TO MEET

Dr. Henry A. Martin, chairman, has called a meeting of the Planning Board for next Monday night at which time it is possible that the group may organize for the coming year. Organization of the board has not been taken up since John Phelan was named by Mayor Herbert E. Macauley to the position formerly held by William R. Harvey. There is a possibility that the post of technician to the board may be taken up but there was no definite information today as to whether any action would be taken on it.

WARREN VICTIM DIES

FALL RIVER, March 23 (AP)—James McFarland, 63, Warren taxi driver who suffered a compound skull fracture in a mysterious attack at his home, March 15, died today in Truesdale Hospital. He was struck with a four-pound sash weight but police have not determined who his assailant was nor the motive for the attack.

Warren police said this noon that they have called in many persons for questioning in the hope that some might throw light on the life of the taxi driver. An autopsy will be performed on the body this afternoon.

LABORIOUS BUTTER THEFT

SPRINGFIELD, MASS., March 23 (AP)—The laborious theft of more than 400 pounds of butter—almost eight pounds from each of 60 tubs assigned to a creamery here—has been reported to police. Somewhere between a Western shipping point and the city, the thief knocked the bottom of each tub, removed a slab of butter from each, then carefully replaced the bottom. Inconsistencies in the weight of the tubs, noticed here, led to discovery of the theft.

RATION SEEN

IN BLACK MARKET CURB

committee—as an observer and he asked for permission to appeal personally before the committee at a late session to present facts and figures on the OPA program. "Its work and effect upon the current supply of meat and other food products," Del Sesto declared the shortage of meat is due principally to the need to feed a large army and assist our Allies. He pointed out that shortages are inevitable in a global war and that "all civilian governmental agencies can do is to see that there is a fair distribution and allocation of any supplies available to civilians."

In order to bring this about, Del Sesto said, the registration figures for War Ration Book 2—have been made available to packers "who will make every effort to distribute their supplies largely on the basis of the distribution of population." Packers throughout the country, it was reported, are planning to use these registration figures for distribution of meat supplies so no area will be able to claim that it is being discriminated against and so that distribution will be based on the most accurate figures available.

Del Sesto pointed out that under the United States Department of Agriculture's plan to license all slaughterers of live animals for human consumption, there will be strict control over every carcass put on the market. Each slaughterer will be given a permit number which must be stamped on every piece of meat put into the wholesale trade. This, he said, will permit tracing every piece of meat sold to the slaughterhouse, thus putting an effective damper on the black market. The program starts April 1 and slaughterers already have been warned to apply for permits.

In addition to being able to trace the meat to its source, the rationing program which starts after March 25 will automatically control the flow of meat more closely, Del Sesto said, because coupons will be required for all purchases, even from farmers. At the same time, all will be placed on an equal footing with regard to weekly allowances regardless of how much money a person has to spend for meat.

Hamburger ground from inferior cuts of meat is being shipped into Rhode Island by large meat packers outside the state to circumvent price ceilings, Del Sesto charged. He said that this processing of hamburger from meats that otherwise would sell at lower ceiling prices constituted a loophole evasion of the spirit of OPA regulations while legally holding to the letter.

SLAUGHTERER HELD

BOSTON, March 23 (AP)—Frank B. Bowman, 50, of Medford, who has a place of business at the Brighton abattoir and described as the largest slaughterer of veal in New England Monday was held for the federal grand jury in $3,000 bail after pleading innocent to complaints charging him with selling veal in violation of OPA price ceiling regulations.

been pouring showers of steel into marching columns and troop-loaded trucks, as well as blasting the heavy German tanks.

The Soviet guns have been inflicting similar punishment on the trucks carrying troops into the Belgorod sector, but advances from the front indicated the Germans were bringing up reserves for heavier assaults from Belgorod down through the Donets elbow.

Nowhere along the line, however, was there any indication that the Red army defense was weakening.

The Russians were holding, too, north of the Zhitomir, above Bryansk, where violent German attacks were reported thrown back again and again with losses of 6,000 men in the last five days without any hint of German success.

The invaders' activity in this sector was held to be a measure to try to save German positions at Bryansk and Orel, endangered by Russian troops driving westward from several bases.

(The German high command communique broadcast today by the Berlin radio and recorded by The Associated Press referred to this sector and said German troops finally had frustrated a Soviet offensive started in January and aimed at cutting off the Orel area from other Nazi-held positions of western Russia.

(In the course of this eight weeks' offensive, the German broadcast claimed that the Russians lost 10,594 captured and 160,000 killed, and that 1,061 tanks and 485 guns were captured or destroyed by the Germans.)

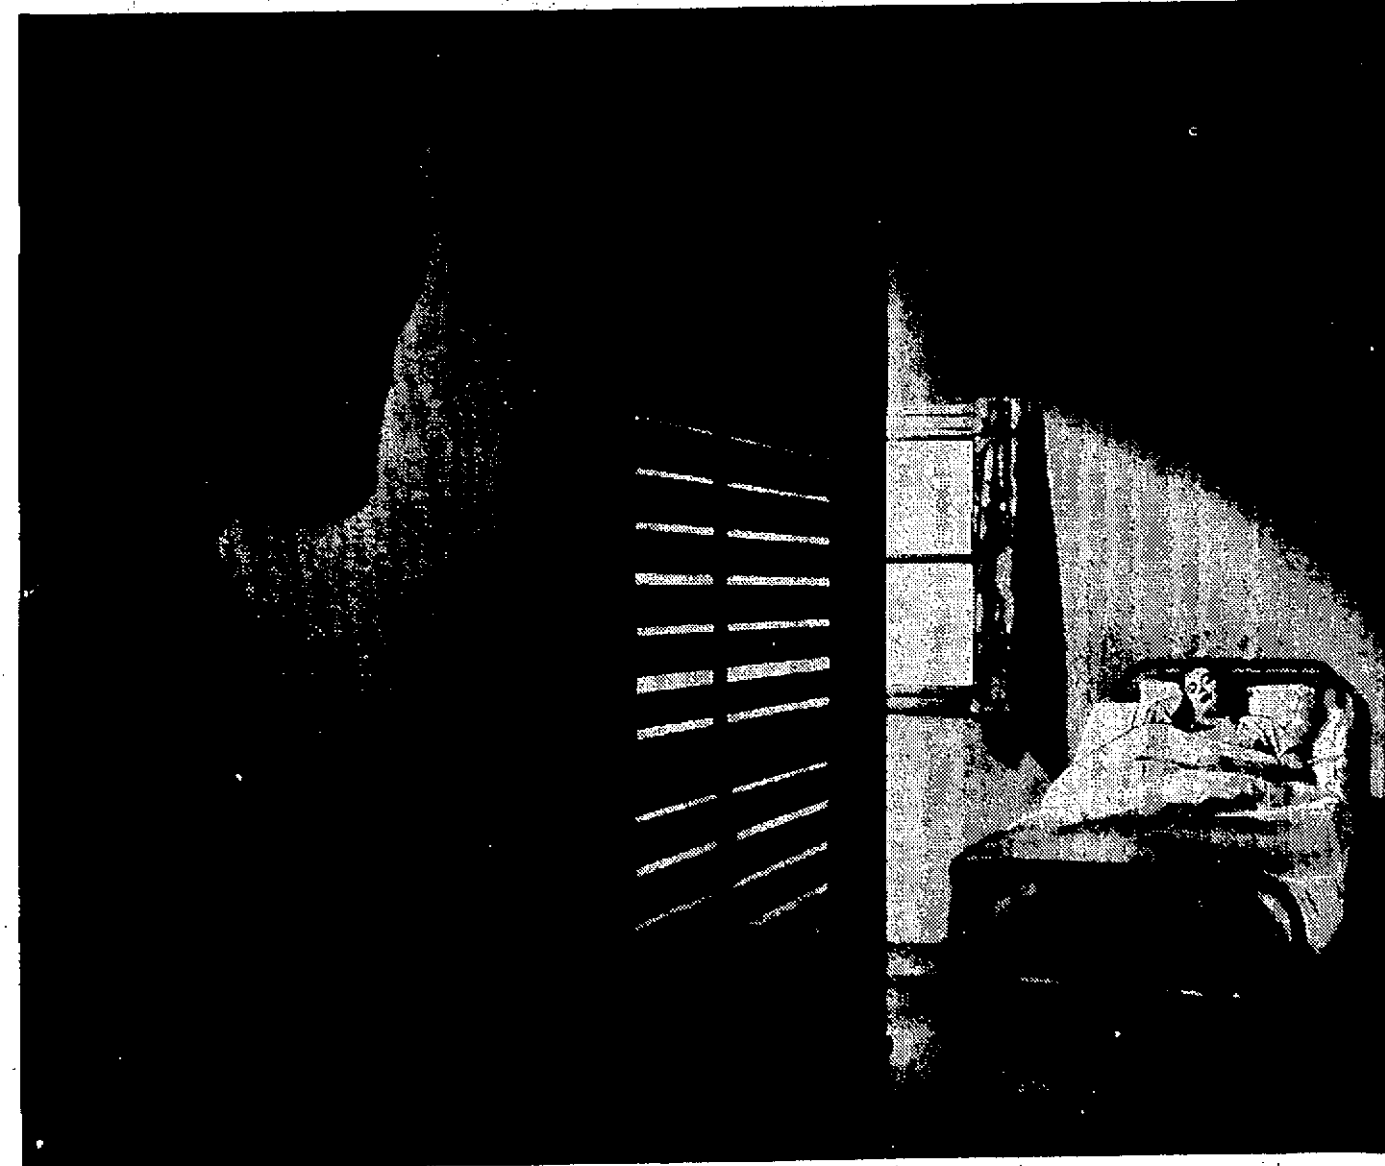

MAN FOUND DEAD

William Cleveland Bonham, 31, was found dead in the old King's Laundry building at the corner of Washington and Marsh streets this morning. Dr. P. P. Claria, medical examiner, was to examine the body this afternoon at the Murphy Home on Annandale road to determine the cause of death. Bonham, according to police, was formerly in the navy, having served about 13 years. He lived in a trailer in the vicinity of the laundry building.

The Unafraid

HOW much courage it takes to dive a plane down the funnel of a Jap aircraft carrier most of us will never know.

Men like Major Anderson don't come back to tell us.

How much courage it takes to fight in a deadly jungle crawling with Japs . . . how much courage it takes to battle heat and sand and thirst and Germans in the African deserts most of us can only guess at.

Our boys who fight there don't talk about it.

Such courage staggers the mind. It is the same kind of courage that has that neighbor boy of yours waiting at the hospital in uniform to see his new-born son.

Some day soon that young father may have to dive his plane down the funnel of a Jap carrier.

He knows that. So does his wife.

Yet their faith is such that they get married . . . have babies . . . plan a confident future.

They are the unafraid. They make the fears and doubts of the rest of us seem mean and small. They make us see some of their vision of the magnificent future of our country . . . a country which can be entrusted with the sons of men who may never see them.

Former Newporter Was Employed as Gardener; Belonged to Masons, Red Men

John J. Brandt, 65, for years a resident of this city and known in gardening circles, died suddenly Monday in Columbus, Ga., where he had made his home since 1922. He was stricken while working as superintendent of grounds at the Bibb City Mills, one of the large textile plants in Columbus.

Mr. Brandt came to this country in 1889. He was a Newport resident until 1922, being gardener for the late George Eustis Corcoran at his residences on Narragansett avenue and at "The Beeches," Bellevue avenue. He was born in Germany and was a naturalized American citizen.

He belonged to St. Paul's Lodge of Masons and Weymouth Shanty-Club of Red Men. He formerly belonged to the Newport Historical Society and Newport Lodge of Elks.

Surviving are his wife, two sons, John J. Brandt, Jr., of this city and Hugo Brandt of Columbus, Ga.; five daughters, Mrs. Erna Bentley, Mrs. Rita Culpepper, Mrs. Rika Johnson, Mrs. Nellie Land and Mrs. Minnie Culpepper, all of Columbus, and a brother, Frank Brandt of Middletown.

Funeral services were held this afternoon, with burial at Columbus.

MIDDLETOWN POLICE ARREST NAVY MAN

Officers Believe They Have Solved "Peeping Tom" Case at Anchorage

Middletown police today expressed the belief they had solved a "Peeping Tom" case that had been bothering residents of the Anchorage, navy housing project, in the last year. They arrested William Edward Reed, ship's cook, first class, of the Naval Torpedo Station at gunpoint Monday night and arraigned him this morning.

Reed, according to Chief Arthur A. Albino of the Middletown department, admitted being the "Peeping Tom," about whom many complaints had been received from Anchorage residents. He was arraigned on a charge of breaking and entering without consent of the owner. He pleaded not guilty, and was held in $1,000 bail, the case being continued to March 26.

At 9:45 P. M. Monday, Middletown police received a call that there was a prowler at 129 Lake Erie street. Officers Roland Peckham, George Rose and John E. Mello responded. At gunpoint, they arrested Reed, who was hiding behind some papers in the attic, in which holes were bored to look into an apartment. The cook, who lives at 5 Constellation avenue, said he did not know why he was hiding in the attic, but admitted, according to the police, to be peeping.

NEARLY ALL SEATS SOLD FOR "ANCHORS AWEIGH" Only 79 Left For All Navy Production For Benefit of Red Cross War Fund

At noon today only 79 seats were left unsold for the all navy production, "Anchors Aweigh," Friday evening at the Parkmount Theatre to benefit the War Fund of Newport Chapter, Red Cross. It was announced today by Schuyler L. Parsons, production chairman. The few remaining seats are in every price range, Mr. Parsons said.

A sell out, as now indicated, will net $2,500, Mr. Parsons said. This is possible only because the theatre and production expenses have been donated, and Red Cross expenses kept at a minimum. The ticket committee is Walter Curry, William A. Peckham, John H. Drexel 3d., J. Randolph Burke, Benjamin Benedict, Harold C. Harlow and Ghidori Goldstein. Dr. Edward F. Hoeppner and staff of the Major Bowles organization will present the performance as a musical revue, rather than as a series of vaudeville acts.

MRS. T. C. LIBBY FUNERAL

Services for Mrs. Alice Littlefield Libby, wife of Tillotson C. Libby of 484 Broadway, were held this afternoon at the Memorial Funeral Home. The Rev. Lester C. Rovoir, pastor of the Second Baptist Church, officiated. The bearers were Frank Danican of Pawtucket, Benjamin Gurney, James R. Lighthbody and Thomas Williams. Burial was in Four Corners cemetery, Middletown.

Mrs. Libby's father, William Littlefield of Enfield, Maine, a brother, Clifford, of Worcester, Mass., and a brother Clarence and niece Jessamine Littlefield of Waterville, Maine, attended.

GROVE EMPLOYE TESTIFIES

BOSTON, March 23 (AP)—Leo S. Givonetti, who was captain of waiters in the Coconut Grove night club November 28, when fire and panic took 490 lives, testified at the manslaughter trial of the club's owner, manager and wine steward Monday that during seven years' employment in the club he had never received fire instruction.

The defendants are Barnett Welansky, listed as owner of the club, his brother, James, acting manager on the night of the fire, and Jacob Goldfine, wine steward. As the trial before Judge Joseph L. Hurley and a jury entered its second week, Givonetti testified that the crowd that night was "a typical Saturday night crowd," that there were empty tables and the club was not overcrowded.

MRS. SPEERS FUNERAL

Funeral services for Mrs. Fannie Elliott Speers, wife of the late Samuel Speers, were held this afternoon at her home on Summer street, the Rev. Carl B. Bare, minister of the United Congregational Church, officiating. The bearers were her two sons, Dr. William J. Speers and Arthur K. Speers, and four grandsons, William J. Speers, Jr., William C. Langley, Robert Weeks and Freeman Speers. Burial was in the Island cemetery.

AXIS COMPLETES PARLEYS IN TOKIO

Reaches Accord on Creation of New World Order, Berlin

Seek Italy Manpower

[By The Associated Press]

The Berlin and Tokio radios announced with enthusiasm, Monday night completion of conferences in Tokio by representatives of Germany, Japan and Italy, at which, it was said, complete agreement had been reached on "creation of a new world order based on justice and guaranteeing eternal world peace."

The broadcasts were recorded by White Premier Hideki Tojo was reported to have participated in the talks, the absence of any special envoys from the European Axis powers made it appear that little more than routine diplomatic exchange actually had taken place.

At the same time Axis and neutral sources indicated the diplomatic pot was boiling in Europe, where German and Italian committees were working out details of a German draft on Italy's manpower and Premier Mussolini was reported to have summoned Pierre Laval, Vichy chief-of-government, to a conference on strained relations between their two countries.

At the Tokio conference, said the Berlin radio, conferring a Tokyo communiqué were Masayuki Tani, Japanese foreign minister, Navy Minister Shigetarō Shimada, Heinrich Georg Stammer, German ambassador, and Mario Indelli, Italian ambassador.

A Domet report of the meeting said:

"Observers contrasted the close harmony of the Axis aims for creation of a new world order and annihilation of their mutual foes, the United States and Great Britain, with the vagueness of the war aims and constant clashing of interest between the United States and Britain."

The Berlin radio reported German and Italian committees had agreed "Italy will send to the Reich a big contingent of skilled workers for particularly important German war factories, and declared a large number of Italian farm laborers would be sent to the Reich this summer."

In return, the broadcast said, Germany has sent "considerable quantities of agricultural products, particularly potatoes," to Italy this winter, and has agreed to the return to Italy of workers in secondary plants shut down by Germany's new total mobilization plan.

Arthur E. Burke, state division of fish and game warden, brought the charges against Carl M. Wilcox of Tiverton, William Wilson of Warwick, Arthur Rainey of Warren, Wilfred Simmons of Warren and Philip Simmons of Tiverton.

At the same time, Knox pre-

IN ELEVATOR REPAIR

Aerial Ladder Used to Reach Upper Part of Structure Where Control Rope Broke

Combination 1 and the aerial truck at headquarters station were sent to the Broadway Hardware Company shortly after 2:30 P. M. Monday to assist employees in making repairs to the elevator. A control rope under the roof of the three-story building broke and no ladder long enough to reach the trouble spot was at hand so use of the aerial truck was requested. While repairs were being made, traffic on Spring street was re-routed by police.

Ashes and some charred wood from a fireplace placed in a metal container in the basement at 63 Aprul street late Monday afternoon gave off such a strong odor that an employee in the house, thinking there was a fire, called the fire department. Combination 1 answered a still alarm at 7:33. The property is owned by Captain Fred Rogers and occupied by Commander John J. Bergen.

"ED" WHITE TO PLAY IN 30th SEASON

Veteran, Bill Cooper on Torpedo Civilians Roster For 1943

Ed White, Newport's own "Mr. Baseball" will again be seen cantering in the Cardines Field this summer. It will mark Ed's thirtieth season in senior baseball circles here, his playing career starting back in 1914.

Hector Page, manager of the Torpedo Civilians, announced Monday evening that he had signed the veteran, along with Bill Cooper, who also is getting to be an old familiar term with the fans, having played in the local leagues for sixteen years.

Both White and Cooper may be getting along in years, but the opposing hurlers still do most of their worrying when one of the two are at bat.

Others who will return in the civilian lineup are Thorsten "Whitely" Nelson, Bob Crescenti and Simon.

John Scott, former MCM catcher, will start a comeback and John Buckley who played on St. Mary's, champions of the Providence CYO league last season will be at the Keystone sack for the Torpedomen.

Mayor Presents Trophies; 207th C. A. C. Edges Coast Guard Team 41-40

The winner and new Gold Medal champion this morning is the MTB basketball team from Melville who took the Newport Y. M. C. A. tournament after sweeping Dugan's Oilers off their feet by the score of 62-43 in the finals held Monday night. All things have to end, and with it the undefeated streak of the Oilers, industrial league champions on their own court.

Mayor Herbert E. Macauley presented the trophy to Ensign Sharp of the MTB team and the runner-up trophy to the 207th Coast Artillery (AA) team, after their defeat of the Coast Guard in another of the night's games. The Artillerymen won by a score of 41-40.

A personal trophy was awarded by the Mayor to Dugan's for winning the Industrial league title. Prizes were also awarded to the second place North Ends and to the third place O'Neills.

Baxter of the MTB who scored 62 points was chosen as the outstanding player of the tourney. Sportsmanship medals were awarded to Dennis Sullivan of the Oilers and to Koegel of the 207th Coast Artillery.

MTB scored 212 points in the tournament against 137. The team registered defeats against the three leading Industrial league teams and the Coast Guard.

In Monday's game the going was fairly close for the first half after which the MTB team speeded up and made a series of attacks that had the Oilers slipping fast by the end of the third quarter.

For MTB Baxter scored 17 points and Cummings and Maki each scored 15. Andy Morrow, Rogers High School star and Leaver scored 12 and 10 points to pace the Oilers.

A strong finish and a last-minute basket by Muriha, his only one of the game, gave the Coast Artillery a win over the Coast Guard in one of the most closely fought contests of the tournament. The soldiers had to overcome a deficit of several points in the last quarter to catch the Guardians but they were equal to the task.

The first half ended in favor of the Guardians 22-14 and the third quarter, 32-27.

Lucey was the high scorer for the Coast Guard with 18 points. For the Artillerymen, it was Hayes and Koegel with 16 and 14 points.

TOKIO LISTS CHINA LOSSES

Japs Claim Foes Were Annihilated In Several Areas

[By The Associated Press]

On the China War front Imperial "munist army" were wiped out in confirmed claim that Japan's invasion armies had lost only 192 killed, while the Chinese lost 10,500 killed, 25,300 captured and 26,500 voluntarily surrendered up to mid-March in Hupeh and northern Kiangsu provinces.

A Japanese communique said that "in these operations, Chinese forces were annihilated in sectors north of Lake Tungting and north of the Yangtze" and asserted that the bases of the 88th Chungking Army and the "New Found Communist" headquarters made an un-northern Kiangsu.

SOX HAVE GOOD HURLING STAFF

Lack of Sluggers Seen as Cronin's Biggest Problem This Year

[By Bill King]

MEDFORD, Mass., March 23 (AP)—After musing about his Boston Red Sox into first division berths for the last five seasons with some of the most erratic pitching staffs in recent baseball history, Manager Joe Cronin appears destined to come up with a finely balanced set of chuckers this year.

But, unfortunately, he can't see much of anything else to gloat about on his roster.

When such seasoned pitchers as Tex Hughson, who had 22 wins against six losses in 1942, Joe Dobson, Ken Chase, Dick Newsome, Mace Brown and Alie Hylke checked in Monday at the "Reds" college camp, and Oscar, the Red Sox, Cronin admitted that his staff should boast of at least one more dependable pitcher than any other in the American League.

"When I had Ted Williams, Dom DiMaggio, Lou Finney and Johnny Pesky taking the best possible care of my hitting, I was crying for nine-inning pitchers. Now that I appear to have the pitching I lacked, I haven't any sluggers," Cronin lamented.

To replace such super-outfielders as Williams, DiMaggio and Finney would be almost a superhuman task in normal times. Just now all Cronin knows about his outfield is that it must be built around the 262-hitting Pete Fox, the only fly-catching holdover from 1942.

The Red Sox have obtained the 40-year-old Al Simmons, a prodigious slugger in his heyday, and such minor league prospects as Ford Garrison from Fort Worth, Tom McBride from Little Rock and Johnny Lazar from the Louisville farm.

All of those rookies were highly recommended by eminent baseball authorities but each of them must make good in a sensational manner to keep the Sox pennant contenders.

Pesky was the only serious infield loss, but he happened to be his mainstay last season. Cronin still has Tony Lipton for first base, the great Bobby Borge at second and Jim Tabor at third. He can round it out by playing either Skeeter or Newsome or Eddie Mottet, at shortstop, but he's certain to miss Pesky's hitting.

Joe's a hard-hitting shortstop himself, but these days he's much too heavy for such exacting work. Last year the catching was attended to by Johnny Peacock and Bill Connroy, who were strictly "good-field-no-hit." Those veterans still are available and probably are the only ones in danger, for three ambitious rookies, Vern Bremer, late of Little Rock, Vern Richards, up from Wilkes-Barre, and Roy Partee, a youngster up from the Portsmouth Piedmont League club, appear capable of worrying those veterans.

R. I. MOTHER JOINS WAACS

PROVIDENCE, March 23 (AP)—A father had complete legal custody of his two children today by agreement with his wife so that she may join the WAACS.

Custody was given to the father, William Arciero, in superior court Monday. The children, a boy, five, and a girl, three, will live at their present home with their father and grandmother.

"I wanted to do more for my country," said the mother, Mrs. Nancy A. Arciero.

She previously applied for induction as a WAAC and was rejected at that time because she had minor children whose complete care was not legally in the hands of another person.

The largest increase, 19 per cent, will be in the North Atlantic states, where only seven per cent of the 1942 crop was produced. A 21 per cent increase is planned in New England.

Make An Agency Account Your "Working" Delegate

If you'll be "out of town" for the duration, or so loaded with War Work that you have not sufficient time to attend to your own affairs, you need the relief and help of an Agency Account—your "working delegate" for a host of personal investment and estate handling details.

Under an Agency Account we make collections and disbursements, keep records for tax purposes, keep track of and advise you regarding redemptions, rights, exchange offers and reorganizations.

You retain complete control—simply delegate what work, authority and responsibility seem desirable. The terms of an Agency Account are flexible and the cost very reasonable. Come in and talk this over with one of our officers.

Morgenthau Warns Against Post-War Inflation

WASHINGTON, March 23 (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau said Monday the nation must be on guard against post-war inflation because of "a strong probability" of a rapid industrial revival after the war.

A backlog of post war purchasing power and accumulated demands for consumer goods and services, he said, will speed the conversion of war industries to peace-time production and the development of new industries.

Morgenthau estimated that by the end of 1944 the national debt will amount to about $210,000,000,000 and will involve interest payments of $4,000,000,000 a year.

Service such a debt, he said, will require that "a reasonably full employment with a high national income be preserved in the post-war period."

STEEL CHARGE DENIED

WASHINGTON, March 23 (AP)—J. Lester Perry, president of Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation, testified today that "the higher management" of his company was in no way involved in a "failure to carry out prescribed testing procedures" on steel plate ordered by the navy and others from the firm's Irvin, Pa., works.

Perry appeared before the Truman committee, known formally as the special Senate committee investigating the war program, which had introduced in evidence signed statements from company employees declaring that tensile strength tests and chemical analyses of the steel plates had been faked.

JOINT POST-WAR PLANNING SCORED

La Follette, Bloom Against Proposal; Proponents Claim
More Strength

WASHINGTON, March 23 (AP)—Advocates of immediate post-war planning were challenged today by Senator La Follette, Progressive, Wisconsin, to show how their proposal to initiate an organization of the United Nations would be binding on any country, including the United States.

A member of the Senate foreign relations committee that will consider the proposal along with others of a similar nature Tuesday, La Follette described a resolution introduced by Senators Hall, Republican, Minnesota, Burton, Republican, Ohio, Hatch, Democrat, New Mexico, and Hill, Democrat, Alabama, as "an extreme manifestation of folly."

"It isn't binding on anyone, including its author," La Follette told reporters.

Taking a similar tack, Sol Bloom, chairman of the House foreign affairs committee, described it as "an example of the disjointed and scattered thinking that is going on both within and without Congress."

Bloom, asserting post-war plan proposals now before Congress "don't do deep enough," indicated he planned to call a conference of members of both the Senate and the House soon "to get down to bed rock."

"What is needed," he said, "is a joint committee of the Senate and House that will formulate a fundamental comprehensive proposal on post-war problems to be introduced simultaneously in both Senate and House. Then we will have a unified expression on this vast subject with tremendous impact behind it that will open the way to a prosecution and winning of the peace, the same as a thousand committees are now prosecuting the war."

The Senate resolution would put that body on record as urging this government to organize the United Nations to collaborate in immediate economic, relief and rehabilitation programs and to join in forming a post-war peace preserving union backed up with armed forces.

"That resolution is fine, as far as it goes," Bloom commented. "But its sponsors haven't even agreed among themselves as to what they want to do. I listened to them Sunday night when they debated their resolution and for the life of me I couldn't be sure what it is they want and I am not sure now."

While proponents asserted passage of the resolution would reassure our Allies that this country does not intend to isolate itself after the war, La Follette closed it in the same category as his anti-third term resolution that the Senate passed during the Coolidge administration. La Follette later supported President Roosevelt for a third term.

"Resolutions of this sort don't bind anyone and are nothing but a device to secure Senate debate," the Wisconsin Senator said, adding that he doubted debate at this time would be helpful to the war effort.

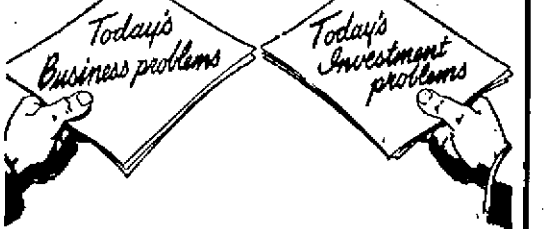

La Follette said he was convinced the American people would want to know what kind of a peace they were underwriting before they committed themselves to its enforcement.

"The boys who are doing the fighting are going to have something to say about this when they come back and we can't bind them now," he declared.

Proponents of the measure, meanwhile, said they were entirely satisfied with the progress they were making in a campaign to acquaint members of Congress and the public-at-large with its objectives.

"We are gaining ground all the time," said Senator Burton. Senators Guffey, Democrat, Pa., a member of the foreign relations committee, and Maybank, Democrat, North Carolina, joined those supporting the measure Monday. Maybank and Senator Brewster, Republican, Maine, will advocate its adoption in a radio talk (NBC) tonight.

WAR WORKERS FORM RECREATION GROUP

John Paduno, Chairman, Outlines Objectives

Various Officials Offer Support In Program For Employees; Officers Elected

The War Workers Recreation Committee permanently organized Monday evening when 75 representatives of offices and shops at government stations and projects here assembled at the city hall. John Paduno, temporary chairman, outlined objectives.

Use of all fields and buildings operated by the Recreation Commission was tendered the group by William A. Martin, commission chairman. A contribution of $100 from the Newport Defense Recreation Committee was reported by Walter Rosen. A message from Mayor Herbert E. Macauley indicated he would try to get a federal grant for the new group.

Lieutenant Clifford W. DuBois, U. S. N., of the Naval Station brought greetings from Captain Frank Fahrion, inspector of ordinance in charge, assuring his co-operation with a general recreational program for government employees in the shops and offices under his supervision. Assistance of the Civilian Defense Council was promised by Lloyd Robson, representatives from that organization.

Miss Bertha Daniels, director of the USO—Y. W. C. A., has opened a center here for the use of women, pointed out that civilian war workers have as much right to the facilities of USO operated units as do men in the military services.

During a general discussion of possible activities, Eugene Pederson, entertainment chairman, said emphasis should be placed on phases of recreation for older people rather than for youths. He suggested golf but said that units cannot be kept in condition without gasoline to operate tractors. The chairman agreed that a petition might be sent the rationing board asking for a gasoline allowance for this purpose.

As an initial activity, the committee decided to hold a dance. Arrangements were referred to the entertainment committee. A committee will seek permanent quarters in a USO or a city-owned building.

These officers were elected: President, John Paduno; vice president, Paul LaChance; treasurer, Miss Marion Murphy; financial secretary, Miss Evelyn Ritt; entertainment chairman, Eugene Pederson; house, Joseph Watterson; athletics, Hector Page; program, Douglas Foster.

The nominations headed by Mr. Page and were augmented by nominations from the floor. Mrs. Raymond Dawley, temporary corresponding secretary, will continue in that office for the present.

INCOME TAX COLLECTIONS IN STATE $24,000,000

Internal Revenue Estimates March Receipts Will Reach $45,000,000

Up to March 20, total deposits of collections of this year's income taxes had reached $23,920,536 in the office of the collector of internal revenue in Providence, with many bushels of mail awaiting processing. The total collection for the full month of March, 1942, was $27,932,840. Officials in the office of Joseph V. Broderick, collector, estimate that the collections this month will total $45,000,000.

The estimate, according to Deputy Collector Martin B. McLoughlin, is based on the present rate of payment that groups opening the mail are disclosing. There are 50 persons in each of two groups opening mail. The receipts turned over by the post office to the collector's office will not be processed and completely classified for several weeks yet.

The official said comparisons with last year's figures do not mean much because this year only the first quarterly payments have been made, while last year with amounts of payments lower, a large majority paid the total. The deputy collector said the estimated 25,000 delinquents will be lower, between 4,000 and 5,000 of apparent delinquents having been delivered in the mail since the estimate was made a week ago.

CIVIC MUSIC GROUP STARTS ANNUAL DRIVE

Over 100 Attend Opening Dinner at La Forge

Officials Predict Increase in Membership; See Music As Moral Builder

An overflow crowd of music lovers attended the dinner, sponsored by the Newport Civic Music Association at the La Forge Monday night to open its fourteenth annual membership drive. More than 100 guests were seated.

At the head table, with President and Mrs. Charles E. Crocker, were the Rev. William Soule, director of music at St. George's School, Dr. Michael F. Walsh, acting superintendent of schools, Clifford Menz, representing the Civic Concert Service of New York, Miss Ellen I. Nason, organization chairman, Mrs. James J. Rooney, Miss Cornelia North, Miss Edith Triguero, secretary, Edward J. Corcoran and John H. Hodgson, treasurer.

Musical selections were given by the Swanhurst Troubadours under the direction of Carroll W. J. Ball. The members are Elton Emanuel, Charles Harrington, A. Hartley G. Ward, Ray Swift, Frederick Johnson, James Walsh, Martin Goldmond and Melzar W. Basford.

Dr. Walsh said that organizations such as the Civic Music Association not only provide a needed form of release for pent-up emotions in the stress of wartime living, but also constitute an important branch of adult education. Education, he felt, should not cease when school and college life is over, but be continued by the development of individual talents and interests.

Mr. Soule saw in the success of the Civic Music concerts, a definite change in attitude on the part of the public toward music since the days when Jenny Lind, in order to be received, was forced to appear on a program with vaudeville acts. He said that the ways of enjoying music are "highbrow, lowbrow and all the ways between" and that all of them should be encouraged. He feels, however, that not enough people make music themselves, and believes that more neighborhood groups should join in playing together for their own satisfaction. "If we make music, however badly," he said, "we develop our sense of enjoyment, and are the better able to appreciate the concerts offered by such groups as the Civic Music Association."

Mr. Menz explained the plan of the association as a pooling of resources by music lovers to purchase a series of concerts by nationally known artists. He declared that music has an important part to play in the war emergency, since it has proved itself one of the greatest builders of morale, that cornerstone of the war effort.

He cited instances of industrial plants where the use of music during working hours has increased production and lessened mistakes, and called attention to the great demand for good music in service camps, here and abroad. He believes that this year's campaign will be the most successful ever conducted, as membership has shown a sharp increase in every community drive held this spring, because the concerts are now within the reach of many who could not once afford it.

Mr. Menz announced that new members joining the association during this week will be guests at the final concert of the current season on April 8 when the artist will be Jean Dickenson, coloratura soprano.
